The Disney characters that are seen throughout this book are the products of creative imagination. Learning is being creative and imaginative. Learning is also taking time to comprehend the world around us, just as Thumper helped Bambi understand her world. Learning is having a growing awareness of life's mysteries. It is sometimes making mistakes in the face of these mysteries, as the Sorcerer's Apprentice so often did. Learning about life is knowing wonder, awe, humility and love. The stories of these characters express all these.

We have grown up with those wonderful characters from Walt Disney. Now they are with us, like friends, helping us to direct our lives at Northern High School. When we remember these days, these characters will have helped explain how we discovered what learning is. In the following pages, we see the friends, both real and imaginary, who shared our important growing, learning years. Read, remember, enjoy.

MEMORABLE

Northern days here have had many memorable, happy moments, and even a few tearful ones we really don't care to remember. Each student, has matured in some way all his own. The days spent here have been an important time in our lives as we learned about life from books, people, and experiences.

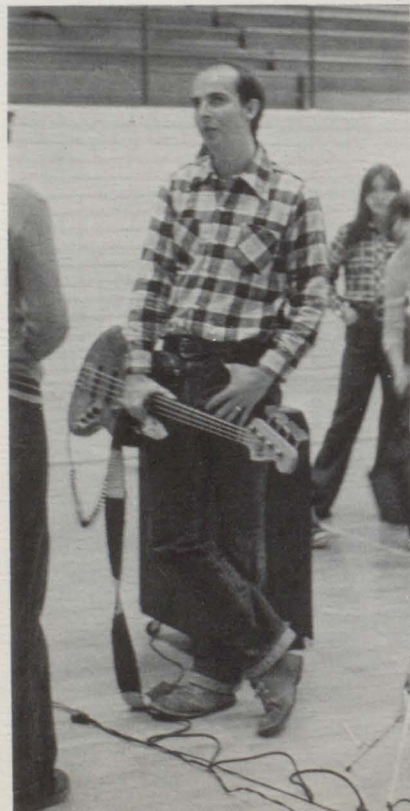

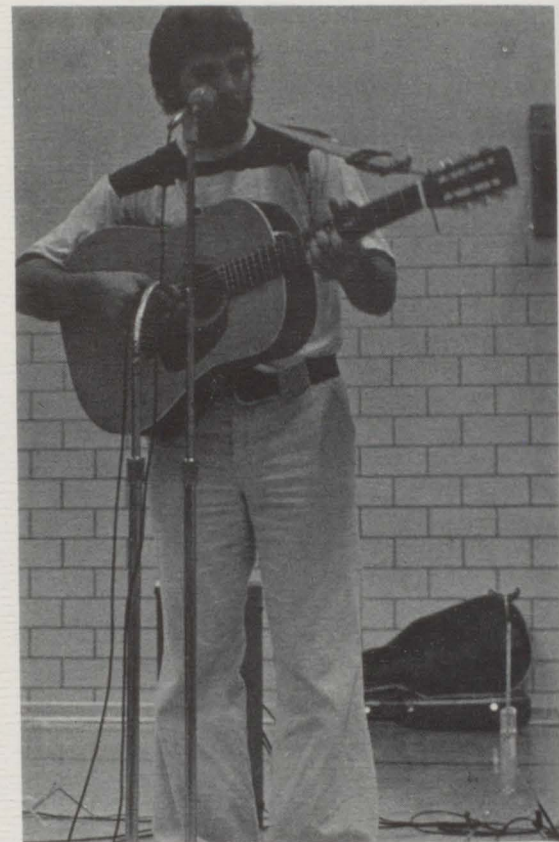

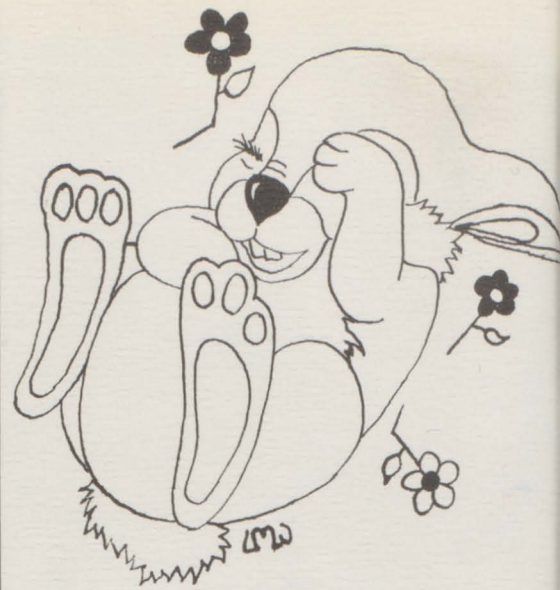

The magical powers of the Sorcerer's Apprentice are indeed at work at Northern. The Apprentice creates fun-filled magical performances. Each student at Northern performs his own unique magic. He performs stunts in the hallway, makes homework appear magically during homeroom, and even does a disappearing act when necessary.

ATTRAC TIONS.

Whenever Thumper the Walt Disney character gets excited he thumps his hind leg. He jumps around in excitement and enjoys himself at every attraction life offers.

Northern students enjoy attractions and respond to them with extreme excitement and pleasure. In doing this they express themselves as individuals. Students look forward to in school attractions. They also have responded enthusiastically to the rock concerts held by the Community College.

Attractions are always well remembered and talked about. They bring back pleasant memories like the Disney characters from our childhood do.

IMAGININGS

This is a world of creative, animated characters reaching into our imagination, helping us open the doors which have long been closed. Our minds are young and strong, striving into the future, but which are still young enough for the past. Let our innermost thoughts reach out for the need of imagination which, like the world of Disney, must remain incomplete.

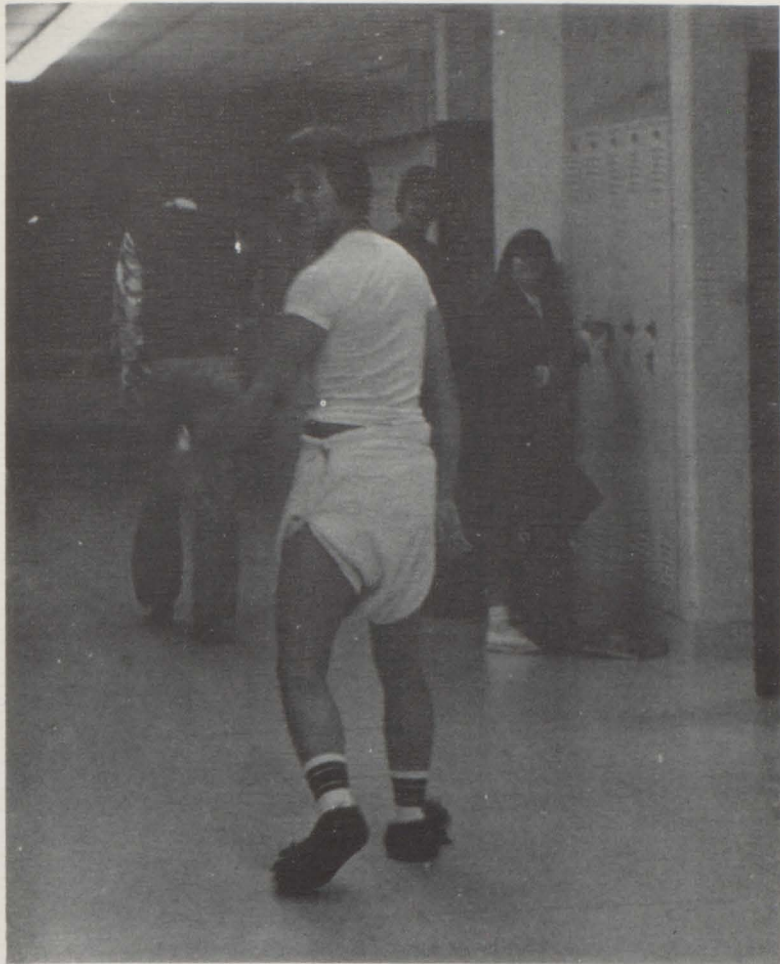

STUDENT

LIFE

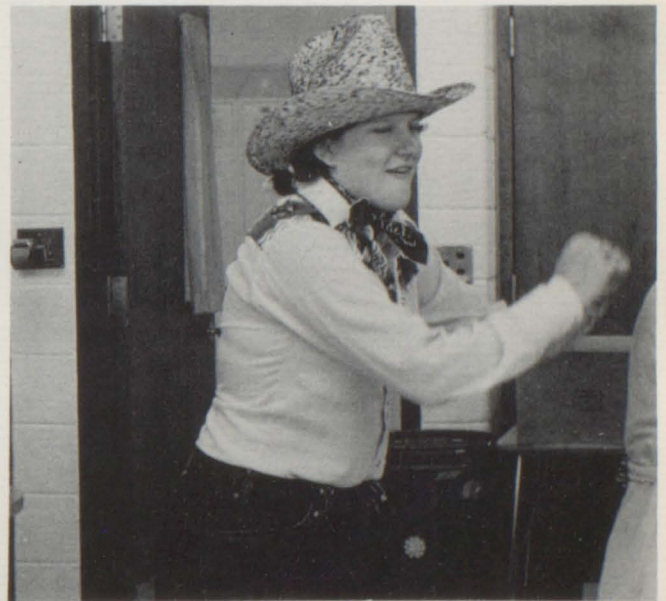

Crazy with Spirit Week.

This year at PHN, Spirit Week was the week before Halloween. As always it was set aside to do zany and crazy things. Each day you could walk down the hall and get a glimpse of a three foot sombrero or an oversized polka dot tie. Maybe you'd see the Fonz or a Kiss look-alike. If you saw someone wearing diapers, it must have been kiddie day. Spirit Week is one wild way that students shown their abundant supply of school spirit.

Freshmen begin.

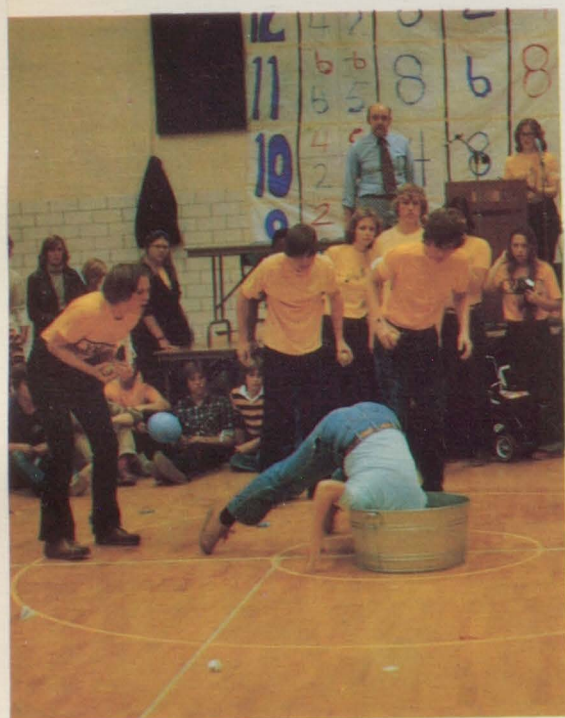

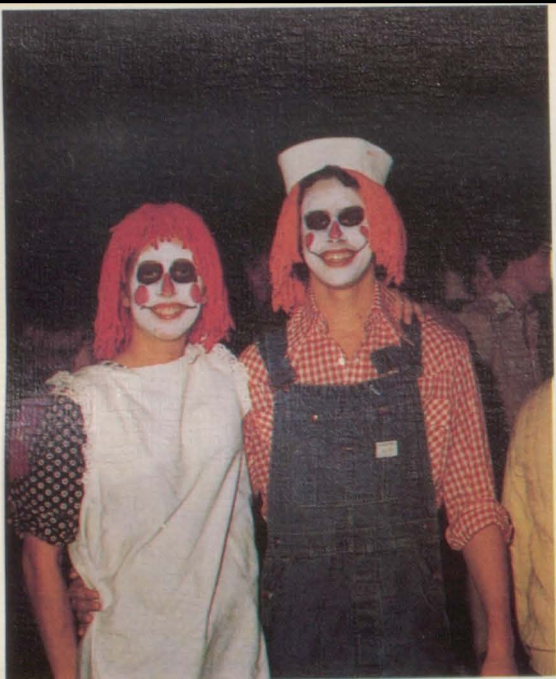

The freshman showed their spirit and determination at the Pep and Mardi Gras assemblies, but it wasn't enough to pull them through the Mardi Gras events. They took fourth place in the games, the cart race, and their wall, which was a scene from Charlotte's Web. Even though they came in last, they put forward their best effort because,

"We're the best,
We don't mean maybe,

At the Mardi Gras dance the sophomores showed just how surprised they were when it was announced that they had won the barrel. Their Hansel and Gretel wall took 1st place. Taking 2nd in the games and 3rd in the cart race helped them win, too. The night was all excitement for them from that point on. The class of '79 has shown that —

"With our spirit,
We will shine,

Juniors fight a losing battle.

The juniors did their best to win the barrel. With a strong 1st place in the games and 2nd in the cart race, it looked good. After the games, they were leading the classes in total points. They chose a scene from Suess on the Loose, for their wall. When the judging of the walls was announced, the crowd was startled when the juniors wall placed 3rd. They placed a 2nd in total points. Each year they have come close to the barrel. Next year they may win because —

"With our Spirit
We are Great

Top Left Center - Sophomore class officers Cindy Nichol, Ann Francavilla, Jim Barrett and Michele Charbeneau hold the barrel proudly. Bottom Left - 10th grade steering committee flaunts the barrel. Top Right Center - Julie West becomes anxious while waiting for the games to begin. Top Right - Mr. Overly watches as all the delicious pies are eaten. Center - Freshmen girls show their poise with the dress of the '50's. Bottom Right Center - Sophomore guys have a display of strength. Bottom Right - Mr. Richard Miller and Nancy Marcozzi supervise the pie eating contest.

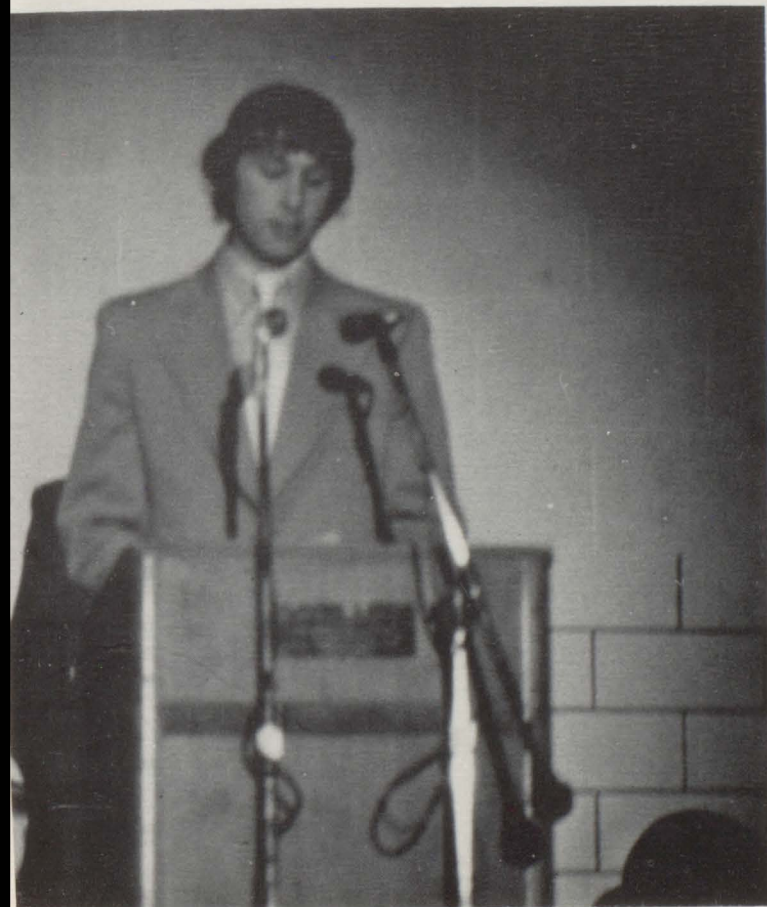

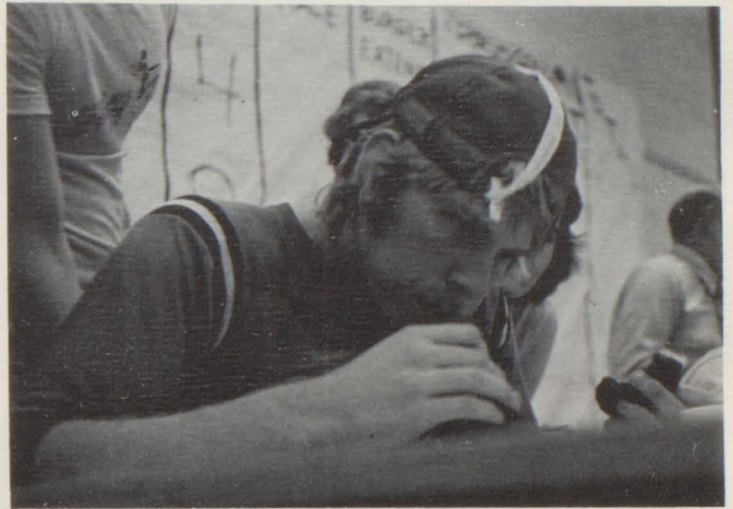

The seniors showed determination at the Mardi Gras events this year. In the cart race they took 1st place and in the games 3rd. Their wall, The Three Little Pigs, took a strong 2nd place. It was unusual for a senior wall to place this high. Their spirit and enthusiasm during Mardi Gras made memories.

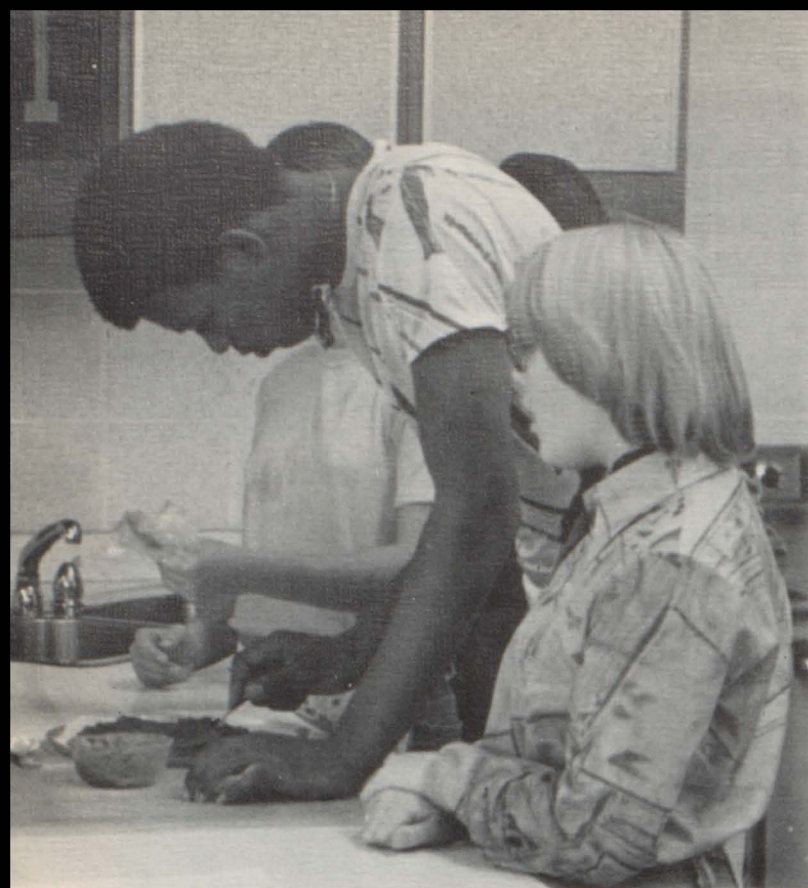

"We've got Spirit,
Sent from Heaven,
We're the Class of '77."

Northern's spirit is spreading.

Student body at Northern is becoming increasingly excited as the years go by. The students have participated in school events and out of school events with enthusiasm and respect. Our Student body creates school spirit, which is continuing to grow stronger each year. The Spirit is changing from a total school involvement to become more community oriented. Students are carrying Northern's reputation beyond our school walls.

SPORTS

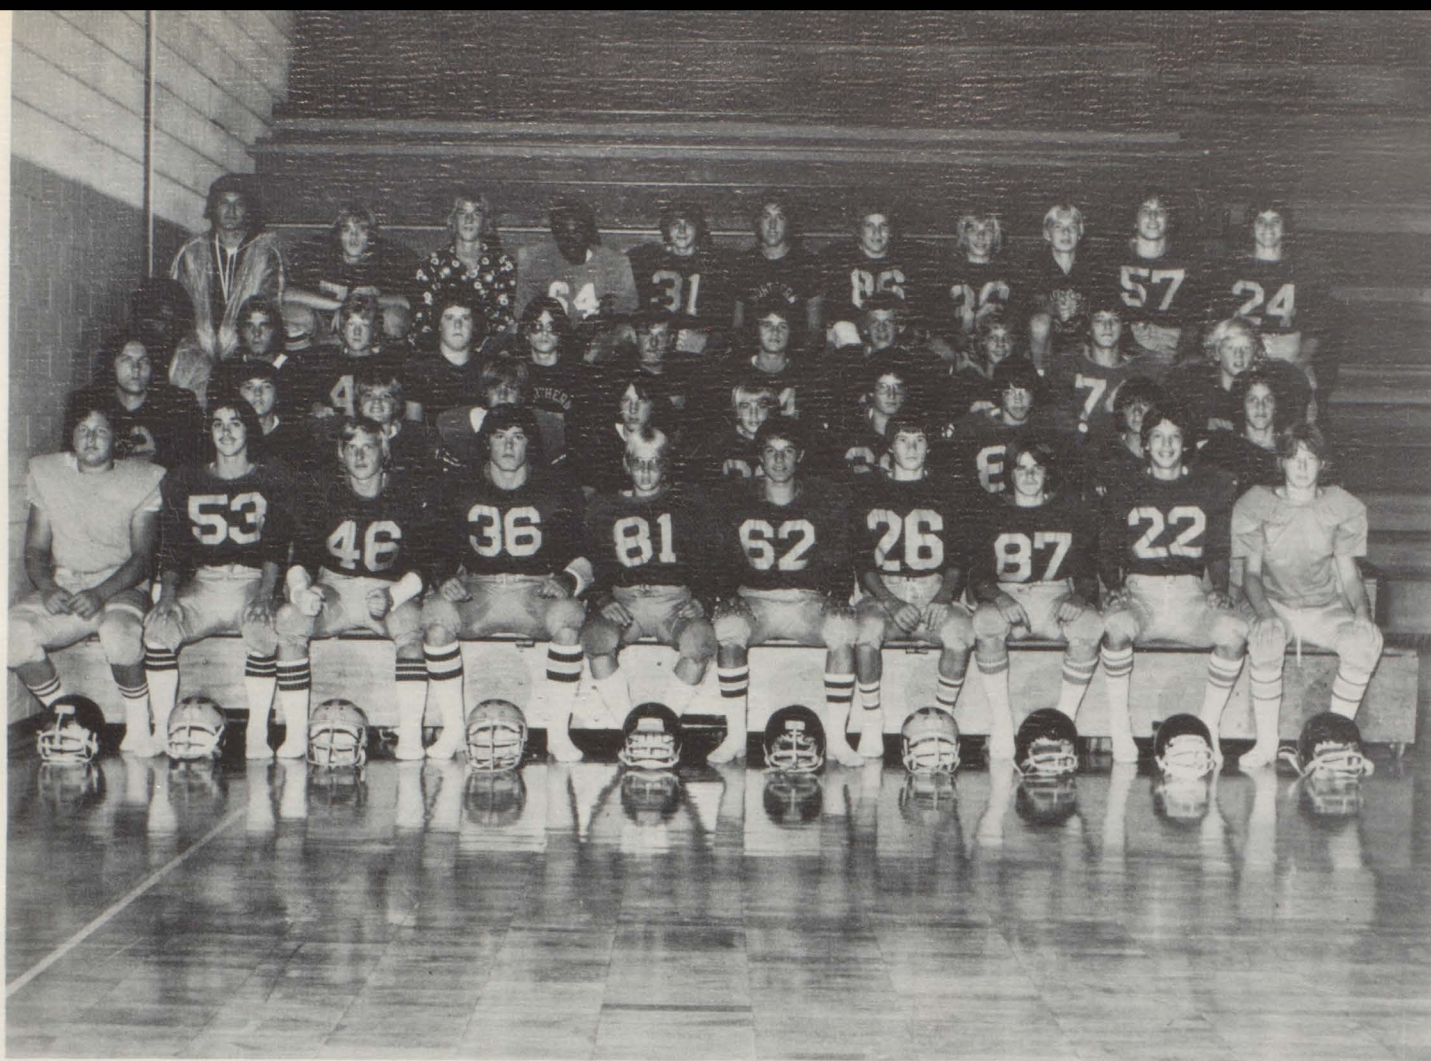

Varsity ties ... again.

Varsity faced a tough schedule in the '76 season. With determination and physical exertion the varsity tied for first with a record of 7-2. This is the second year Northern has split the Eastern Michigan League title with East Detroit. Although Grosse Pointe South was not expected to be a threat, Northern has never beat them. Northern got all the bad breaks and suffered their first loss to the G.P.S. Blue Devils. This resulted in a loss of state finals and the chance to go to Pontiac Stadium. "The high points of the season" said head coach Jim Bates, "were beating East Detroit and becoming E.M.L. champs." When asked to name top players he said, "It was a whole team effort."

Blue.

Freshman Blue placed second in the E.M.L. with a 1-7 record. Mr. Haas, their coach, encouraged them to the fine '76 season. He commented on the season, "Well, the weaknesses were inexperience, lack of size, the injuries and a tough schedule, but on the otherhand, our strong points were that the kids learned a lot of football fundamentals."

The Freshman Gold football team faced another tough season, and posted a 3-6 record in the E.M.L.

Mr. Hanton and Mr. Klink coached and supported them. When asked about the team, Mr. Hanton replied, "We had one of the best freshman teams Northern has ever had. We started out with two shutouts — then lost five in a row by only one touchdown. We won the last game 38-8 which was a great comeback." He commented on the team's weaknesses, "Inexperience and penalties hurt us," and their strengths, "We had some of the biggest freshmen ever at Northern which helped us."

J.V.s best ever.

Lead by quarter back Doug Haymen and defensive captain Chris Tisdell, they recorded the best season a JV team has ever had at Northern with a 7-1-1 record.

When asked his teams strong and weak points, Woods said, "We didn't really have any weak points, although we played 22 or 23 boys all season, but the biggest weakness was the ability to hit."

The Port Huron Golf Club was the home away from home for the P.H.N.'s golf team. The golf team was lead by Joel Peatie who received awards in the all area conference. He was also a medalist in the E.M.L. Northern's record was 9-1 in league and 13-3 overall. They went to E.M.L. finals and placed second.

They also placed first in the city tournament for the third year in a row. This retired the traveling trophy. In addition, they came in fifth at state regionals.

Tennis courts state finals.

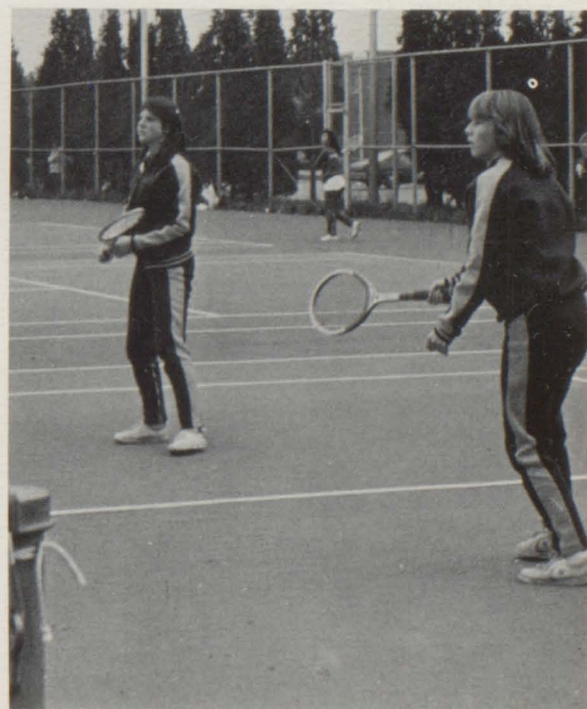

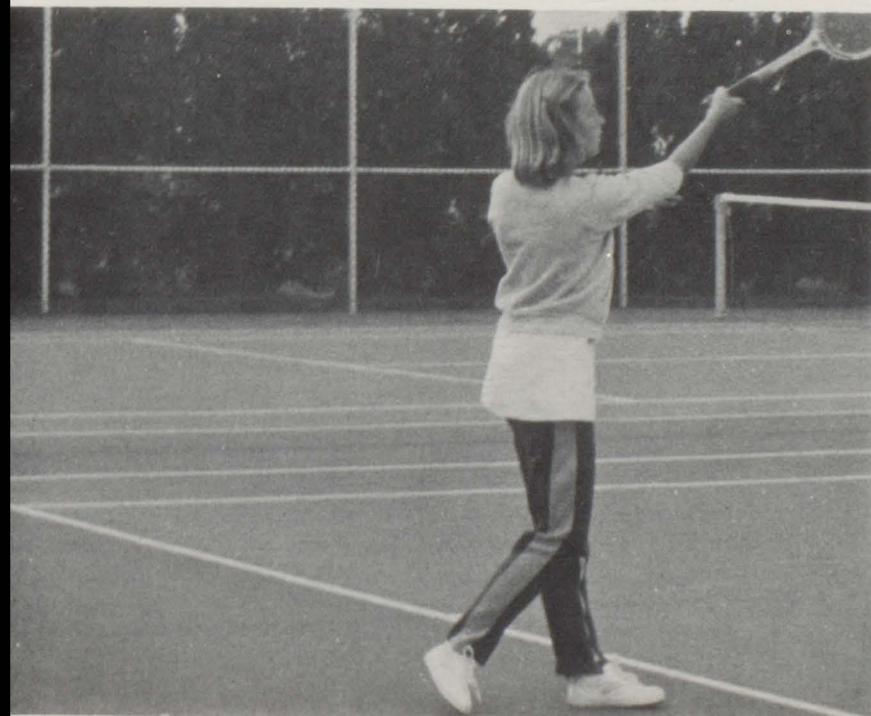

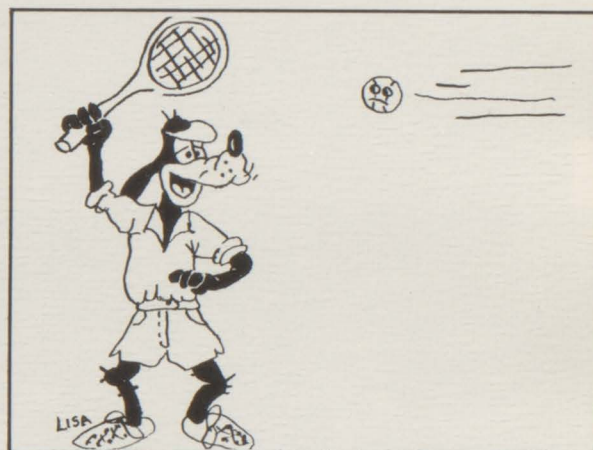

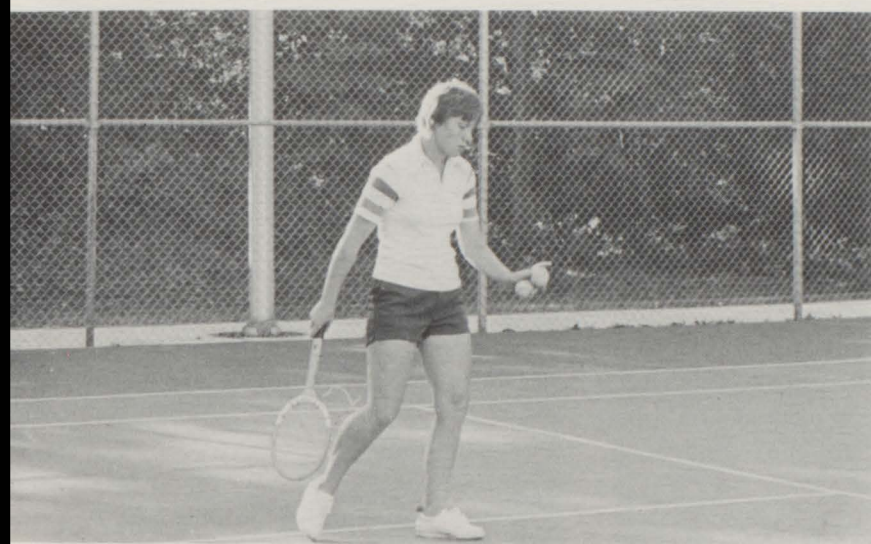

Due to a second place tie at regionals P.H.N. girls tennis competed in the state finals which were held in Midland, Michigan. This was first for P.H.N. They had never placed in regionals or competed in state finals. Northern finished seventh out of nineteen schools. Mary MacTaggart was the only P.H.N. girl to survive to semi-finals but she lost there. They also placed high in E.M.L. finishing second losing only to G.P.S.

Mrs. Mosier, in her third year of coaching the tennis team, has given invaluable effort, time, and support.

Ten juniors, four seniors, and one sophomore battled their way from nowhere to the top of the league. Their league record was 7-5.

In post season play, Northern had no trouble beating Davison in districts. On the road to the regionals, Northern had to play Carmen and then Lapeer West. The team continued to do remarkably well.

Varsity blasts to districts.

The Freshman and Sophomore players on the Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball team scored a 10-4 record. They survived the season with only a few injuries.

The J.V. coach, Miss Penrod has coached for two years. She inspires the team with her support and coaching ability.

The starting line-up, Mary Conlan, Julie Miller, Becky Conger, Lori Meads, and Paula Donnellon drove to the best J.V. record ever.

North Stars shine.

Newness was an asset for this year's drill team. They had a new coach Mrs. Dianne Sevigny. They began doing new, more military routines. It was a winning combination. Weeks of hard work paid off when the drill team placed third at the Rochester competition.

Led by their officers, captain/treasurer Shelly Mix and co-captain Debbie Talmadge, they brought excitement to halftime home football games. During basketball, Shelly May took over as captain and Wendy Wilson took over as treasurer. The team also added new members, Lori Delong and Lisa Jerry.

Cheerleaders energize.

This year the JV and Varsity squads did a great job of arousing spirit. In their joint efforts at the pep assemblies they presented many new cheers. Their newest is "Say do you want to shoot the moon?" Before this cheering season got underway the girls went to a clinic which was held at Mt. Clemens. There, both Varsity and JV received first place. They held daily practices after school because they felt discipline was a factor of their success.

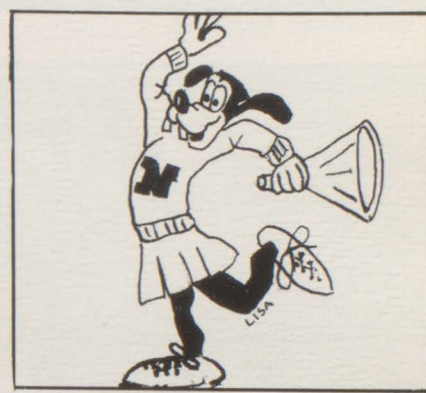

Miss Chess was the advisor of the football cheerleaders this year. Their activity was about to be cancelled because they had no sponsor. She agreed to help them out of a tough spot.

Win with a Pin

"Northern Huskies win with a pin" was one of the many posters the Mat-Maids put up to support the wrestlers. The title may seem a bit misleading to non-wrestlers but it hasn't caused a problem for the wrestlers. The Mat-Maids duties were keeping score and recording points for certain moves. They also had money making projects such as candy sales and trash can sales.

The captain Laura Mordis should be praised by all the coaches, players, and fans for the fine job they did supporting Huskey Wrestlers.

Experience Built up

This was a learning year for the J-V. Through their new coach, Mr. Roy Johnson, the J-V wrestlers switched around in weight classes frequently, they had an impressive year. For example in the match against Stevenson, they were losing 35-12 when the last three wrestlers pinned their men and they pulled through a 36-35 score to win.

Huskie Wrestlers pin down a good season.

This year was basically a rebuilding year for the Huskies wrestling team. They have only 5 remaining seniors.

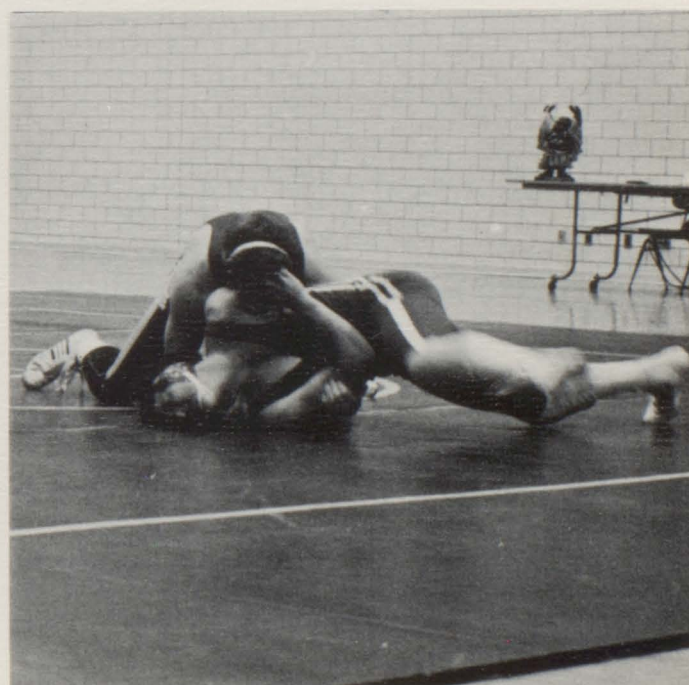

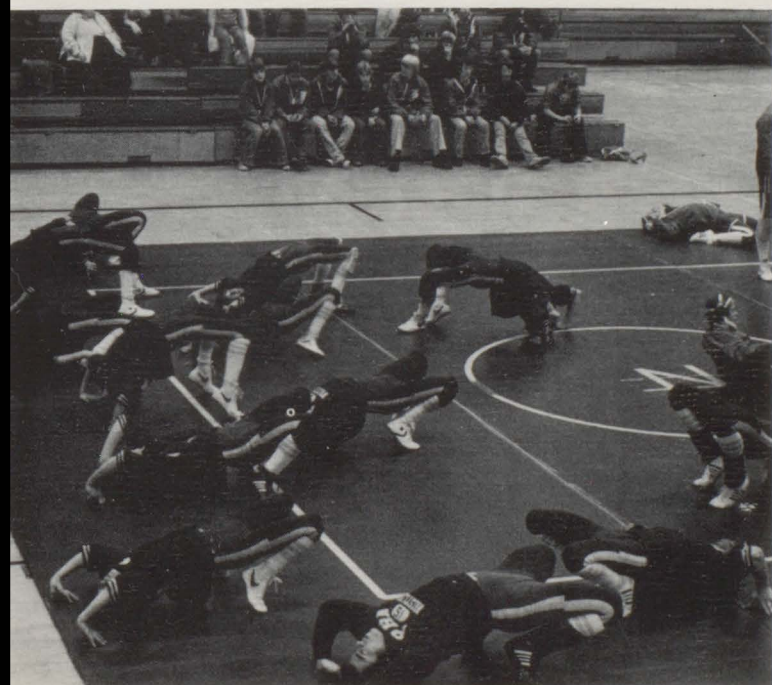

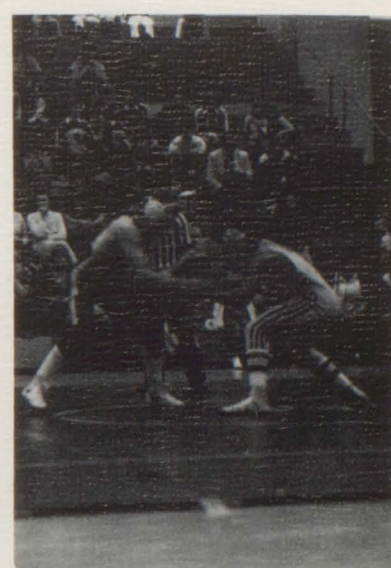

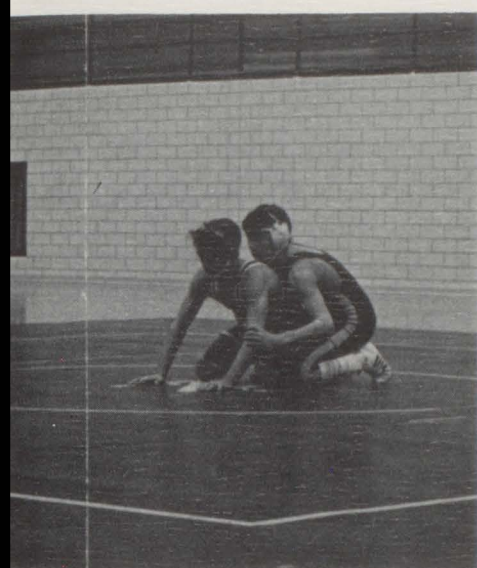

Complicated holds involved in competitive wrestling take about one year to learn. To the inexperienced freshmen and sophomores these holds were problems. Varsity is therefore expected to improve as they learn.

Captains Rod Shaw and Ev Hyde lead the Huskies with some of the best records.

Varsity Basketball . . . talent and patience.

When Coach Hanton called his first practice back in the middle of November, he found himself in a dilemma.

He didn't really have any tall people. Even so, the Huskies put together an impressive year.

Northern is having great success through rebounding by forward Brad Bates. Guard, Larry Gunter and his remarkable ability to shoot adds a great deal to the team.

Another element of success is due to the Huskies second string who are able to lend an assist at anytime.

Teamwork is key to success.

The Northern team, lead by their great offense, had a fantastic season. They compiled one of the best seasons in Northern's basketball history. Their first game was a victory and from there on it was victory or bust. They worked hard for their triumphs which sometimes seemed too difficult to achieve. The season was marked by tremendous enthusiasm, hard work, and team spirit.

As always the Freshman squad started off with a completely new team, after all Freshman are newcomers. One of the main purposes of Freshman and Junior Varsity teams is to prepare players for tougher Varsity players. The Freshman pulled off a substantial season although they had not worked together before they had come to Northern.

Queens on court.

Volleyball at Northern has become a popular sport. Not only are girls interested this year, but for the first time a couple of guys came out for the team too.

The Varsity girls, coached by Miss Diane Fugiel, have become more efficient in Volleyball essentials such as: setting, bumping the ball to a setter, and not fouling.

New team measures up.

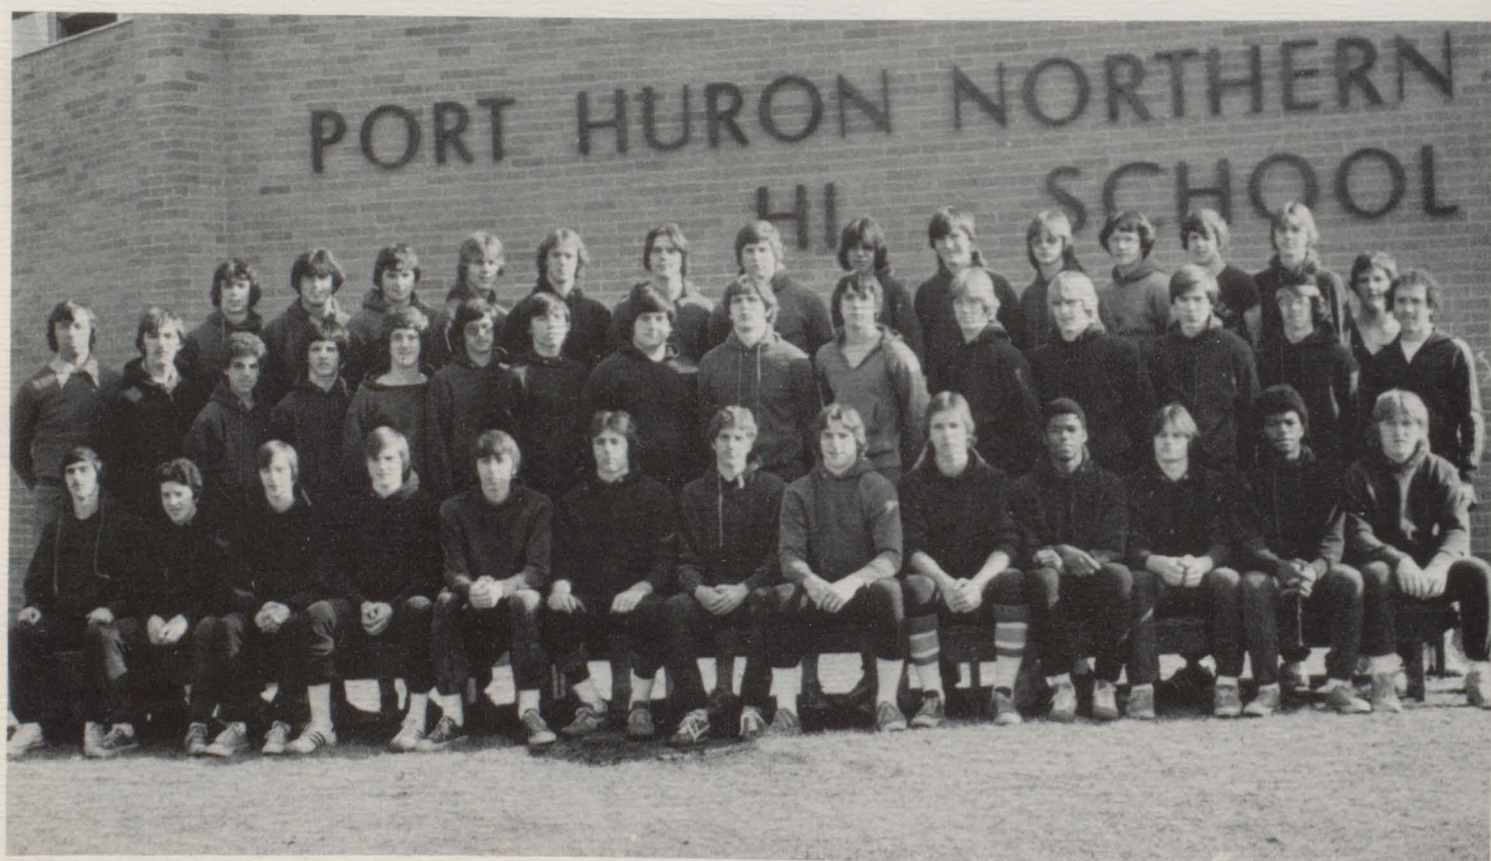

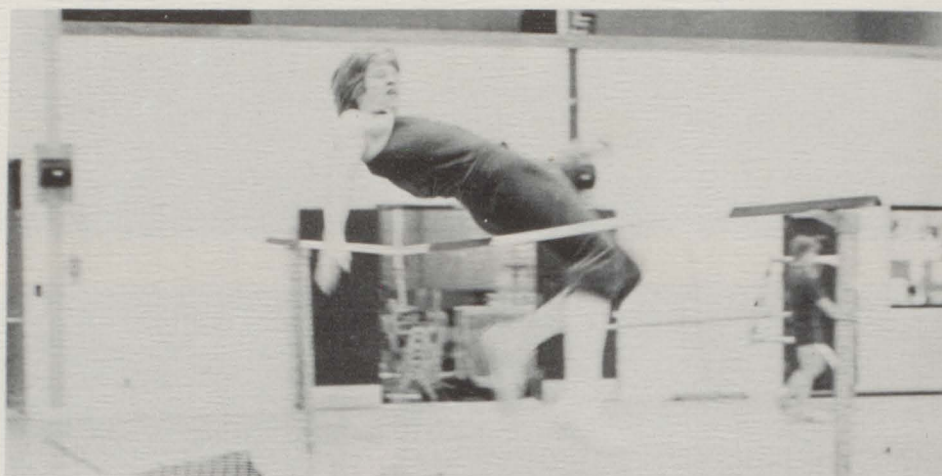

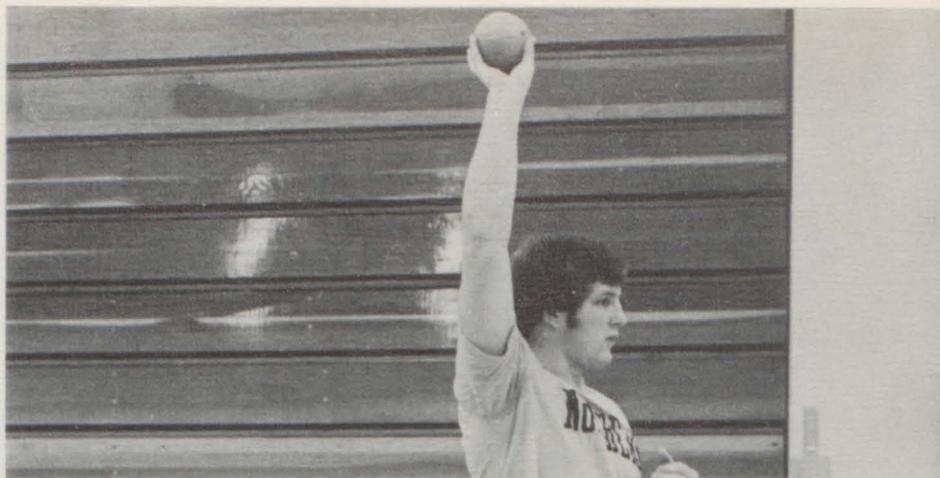

The J-V girls mainly made of sophomores and freshman become experts on running stairs. When the J-V girls coach, Miss Learn, said, "If you don't call for the ball you run stairs." You bet the J-V team learned fast on how to say "Mine."

Speed, endurance help Huskies.

Coach Woods spurred the Huskie track team to a good season. They practiced long hours for their various events. Some of the track men began individual practice shortly after Christmas using the time to improve in the dashes and hurdles, and conditioning for other field events.

New team measures up to expectations.

This is the first year Northern has had a girls track team. Miss Learned and Mr. Komph had the duties of picking the girls for certain events and coaching them to first year wins.

Boys slide into '77 season

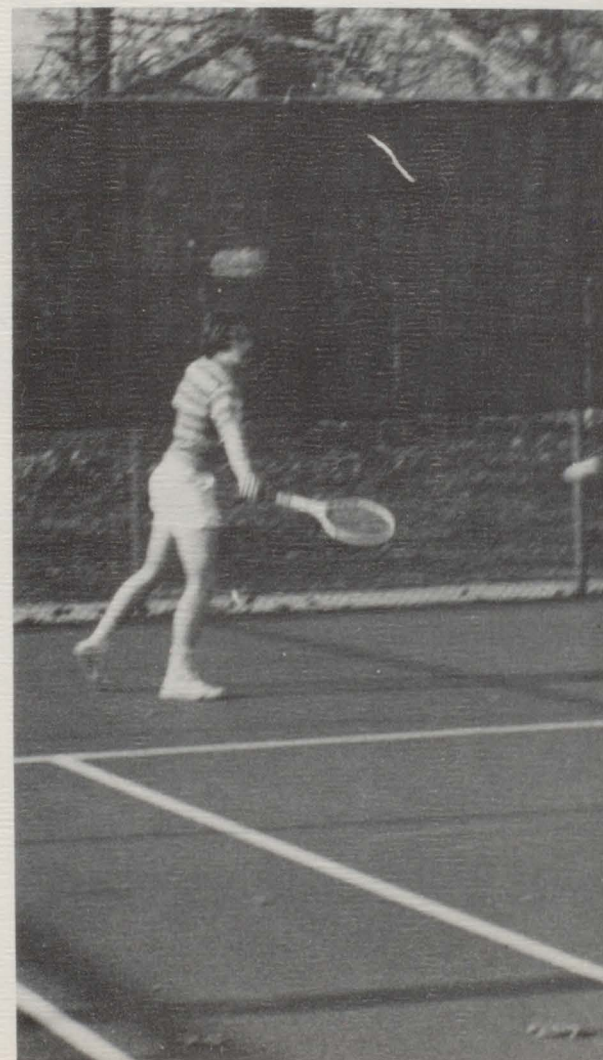

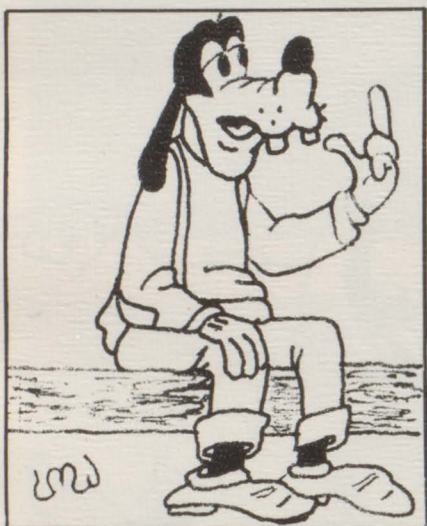

Under a new coach, Mr. Klink, varsity players spent many hours developing team and individual skills. The practice gave players the experience necessary for total game improvement.

Jim Jones got the job of coaching the junior varsity team. Their team effort was impressive thanks to Jones's help.

Guys rack up good season

The main goal of the 1977 Huskie tennis team was to significantly improve last year's record. Dave Tracey coached both Varsity and Junior Varsity. With Mr. Tracey's leadership, both teams had good seasons. Their team spirit really showed their school pride.

Softball

Each year the softball team suffers an injustice that is somewhat unforgivable, considering their record-breaking seasons. This is one of the Varsity sports that receives little publicity or support.

Several of the girls such as Lynn O'dell, Marie Belkeicz, Lorie Shaw, and Teresa Geelen have played on the team since they were freshman. They owe alot of thanks to Mr. Miller who took over the coaching job 3 years ago.

Girls add up to net worth

Because a coach was not available before the start of the season, the girls almost didn't have a team this year. However, Mr. Dougherty was thoughtful of the girls who wanted to play this sport and took over the coaching. Even with a late start the girls had an enthusiastic season.

Non-teaching personnel: an asset to school.

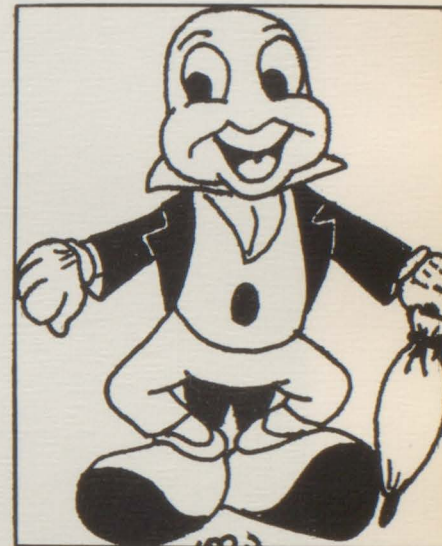

Our school would not run smoothly without the school board, administrators, main office secretaries, cooks, and custodians. The school board oversees the whole school district, making major policy changes and passing budget proposals. The administrators oversee Northern's school policies, and the curriculum. The secretaries hold the main office together and are a constant help to the administrators, teachers, and students. At lunch time the cooks are a necessity, they work to keep the students well nourished. The custodians keep the school clean and make it a more pleasant place to be.

Mrs. Rutkofske, Mrs. Shepherd, and Mrs. McLeod; our main office secretaries. Center Right — Mrs. Green adds a little something extra. Bottom Left — Mr. Overly rushes to get a letter sent. Bottom Center — Mr. Morehead thinks about the passing day. Bottom Right — The Day custodians: Mr. Barr, Keith Barr, Mike Maveety, and Ronald Zimmer.

The main purpose of the Skill Center is to prepare students for future employment while they earn high school credit. A wide variety of skills are taught, such as graphic communications, public services, manufacturing, transportation, construction and maintenance, and business and office occupations.

Every academic classroom seems to show by its decorations what interests the teacher who uses it has. Some teachers put things on bulletin boards and leave them there forever. Others can't make up their minds; their rooms change daily. Some rooms are plastered with posters; others are bare and sterile looking. Some contain plants, fish, book cases and magazine racks. However, all of these give insight into the teachers and the subject matters they teach.

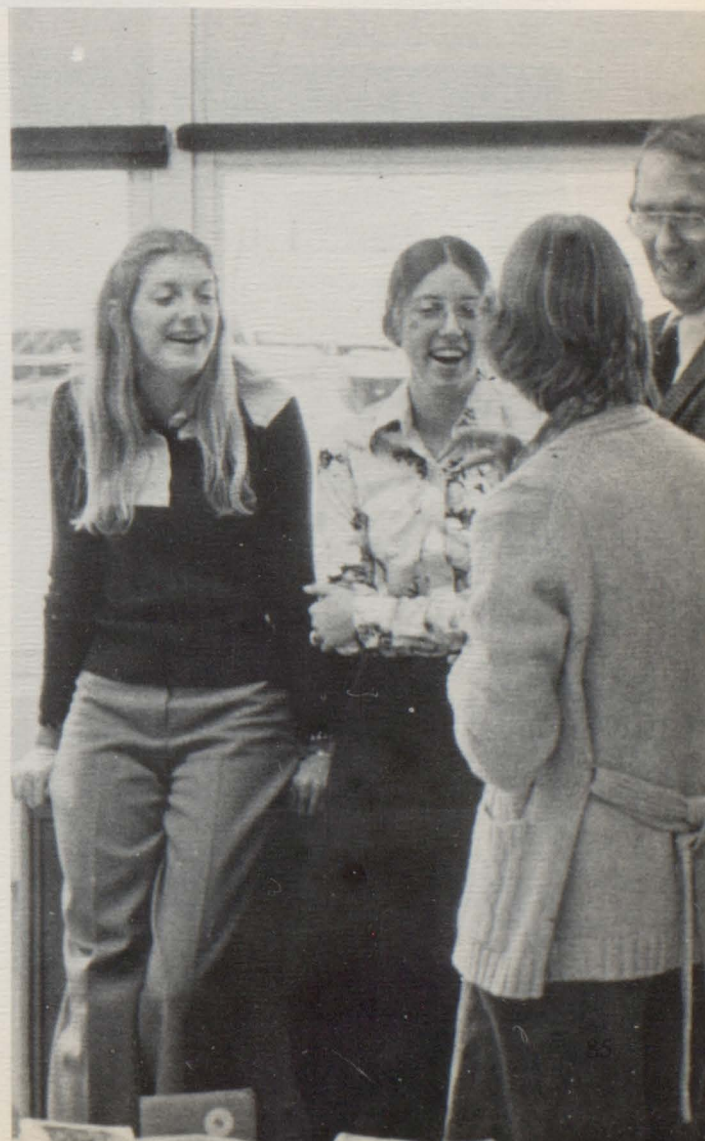

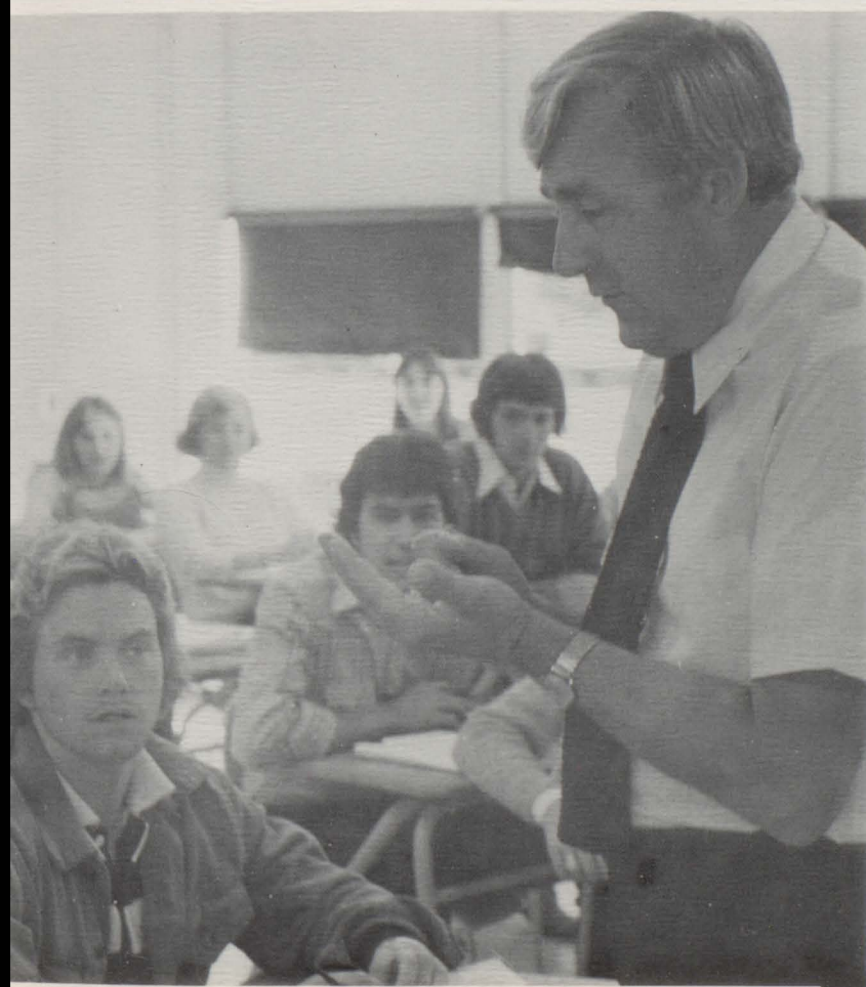

Eclectic English.

The classrooms of English teachers reflect the diversity of the subject they teach. In one, a wall blooming with colorful posters proclaims the values of poetry, drama, novels, and short stories. In another, graffiti graces the fold away wall. In yet another, a huge thermometer marked "Ad Sales" adorns a scarred closet door. In the speech classroom a giant flag in vivid red, white, and blue overshadows the grey stepped floor. Desks are arranged in V's, semi-circles, three sections forming a stage, and the traditional all faces forward. English classrooms are controlled, but have style and flair.

It is the responsibility of the Social Studies curriculum to take students from the ancient world into the future. Each kind of class has it's own personality and props. History requires maps of every part of the world, pictures of presidents, documents, and flags. Classes like Futuristics and Problems of Democracy use the "now media", television, newspapers, and news magazines. Pictures of current politicians inspire discussions and decisions. County planning maps and simulation games prepare students for real life involvements.

Top Left - "What will I do with this class?" says Mr. Clark. Top Right - "But Mr. Hamilton, we're only fifteen minutes late." Center Left - Mr. Cy Smith introduces the political spectrum. Center - Miss Drewyore is startled at Sean Proctor's question. Center Right - Mr. Coughenour can't decide who to pick on for newpoints because for once everyone seems to be ready. Bottom Left - Marilyn Newton points out a very startling fact to Mr. Pike. Bottom Right - Mr. Green uses humor as a stalling technique so he can check his notes.

Say "Proof." and

Math classrooms are a dead giveaway. A large protractor or compass on the blackboard is a sure sign that geometry is taught there. In general math a poster stresses the value of numbers. In one room odd shaped pieces of paper are tacked on the board; students change these and form a different shape each week. In another, three dimensional shapes hang from the ceiling. However, another is bare except for the weekly assignment tacked on the board.

Science is . . .

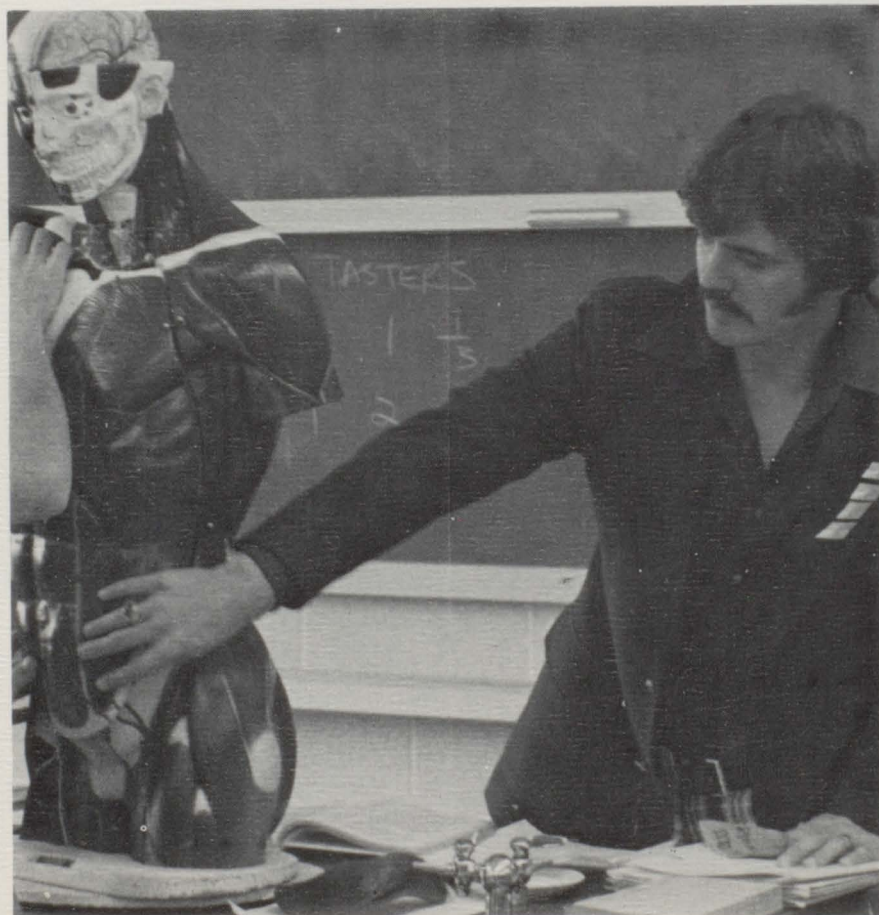

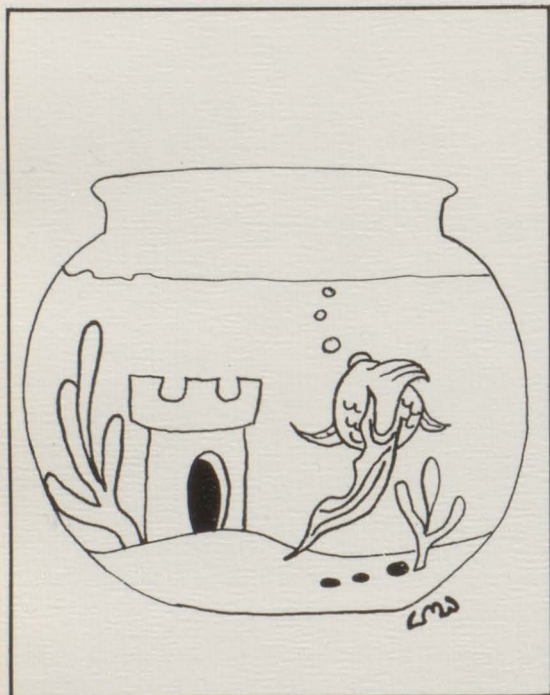

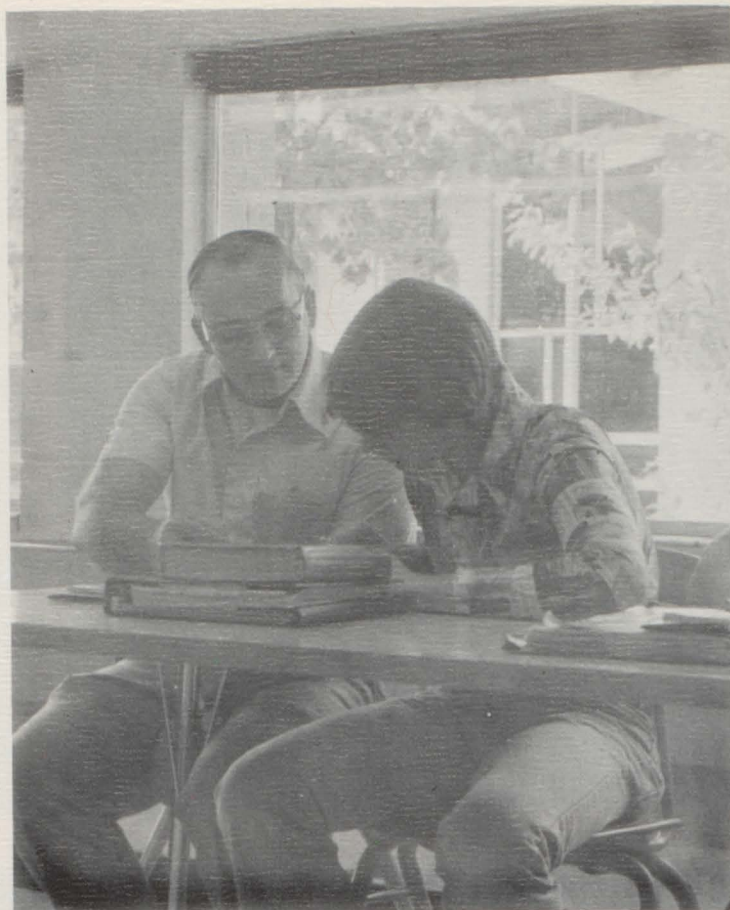

Science is systems. Facts and rules organized to give information about the world. The classrooms show this strict organization with desks that are bolted to the floor. Locked cabinets contain numbered microscopes, specimens and models.

For all its strictness, science offers great variety. Students can peer into a frog, propagate sweet peas, learn to fly, write Merry Christmas with a chemical reaction, or express their talent through the chemistry of photography.

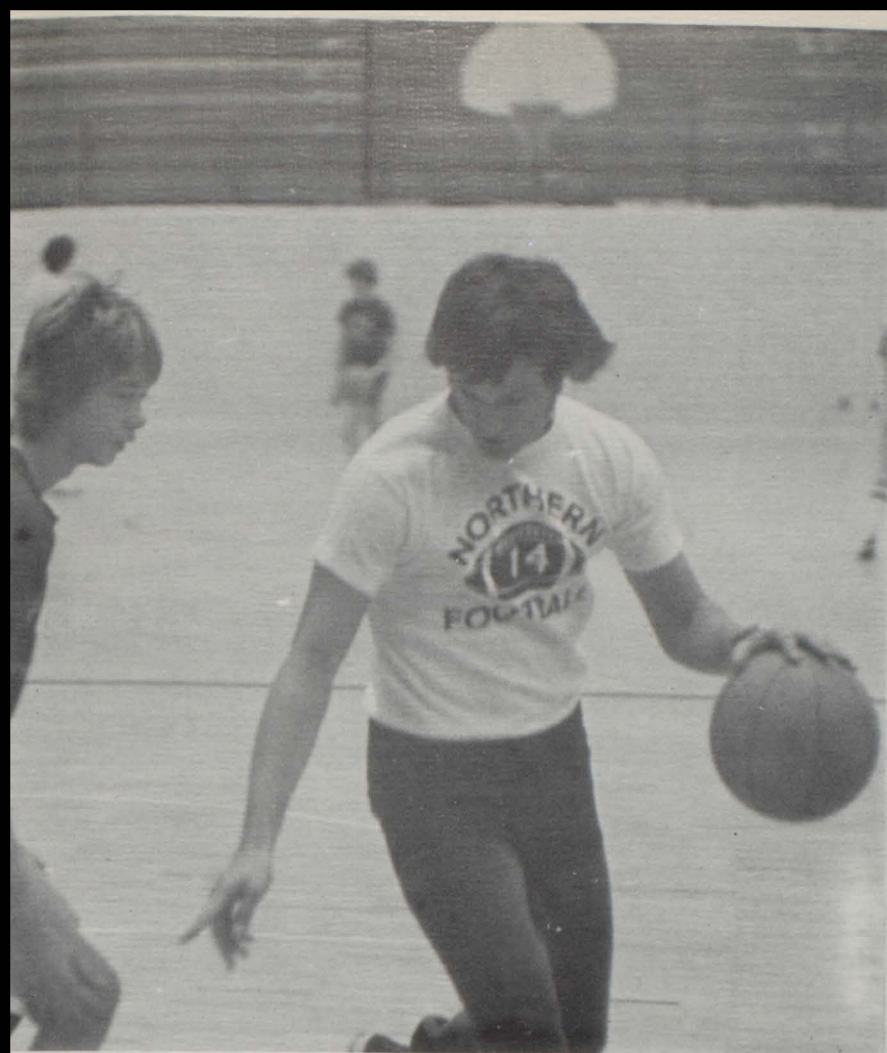

Top Center: Cheryl Rapp checks the strength of the pulley system as Mr. Blackney looks on. Top Right: Mr. Spraggs questions Ann Luce about her late pass. Bottom left: Mr. Morrison takes his Environmental Science class on a nature tour. Bottom Center Left: Miss Nelson relaxes with her AP Biology students. Bottom Center Right: "Chemistry labs mean something different to everyone," thinks Mr. Miller. Bottom Right: Andy Balough seems to be listening intently to Mr. Heideman's discussion.

*Little is changed
by Title IX.*

Northern experienced another change. According to law, schools can no longer discriminate between the sexes. Males and females may take any physical education class offered. Girls P.E. and Boys P.E. has been replaced by Individual and Team sports. No major change has been noticed in class make-up.

Students cross many borders with Foreign Language.

You can visit France, Germany and Spain without leaving Port Huron Northern. Pictures of the countryside, gourmet dinners, and song fests introduce the students to these countries and their languages. Even the non-students experience these countries because the strange sounds pour out of the Foreign Language classrooms and into the hallways.

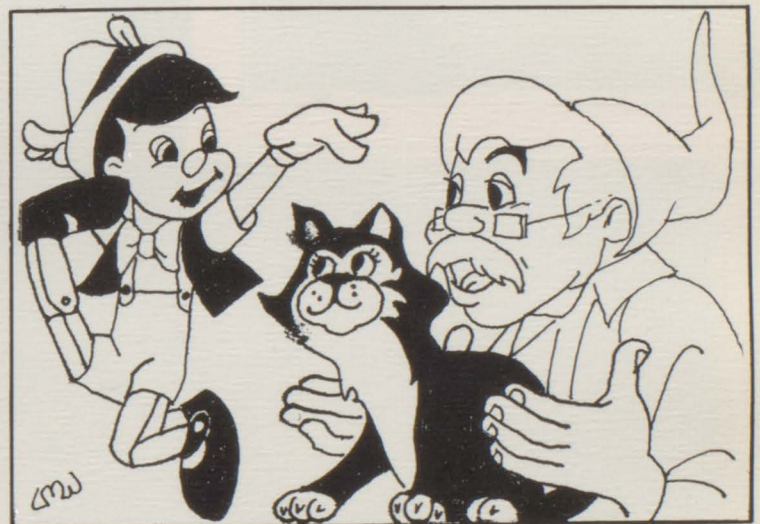

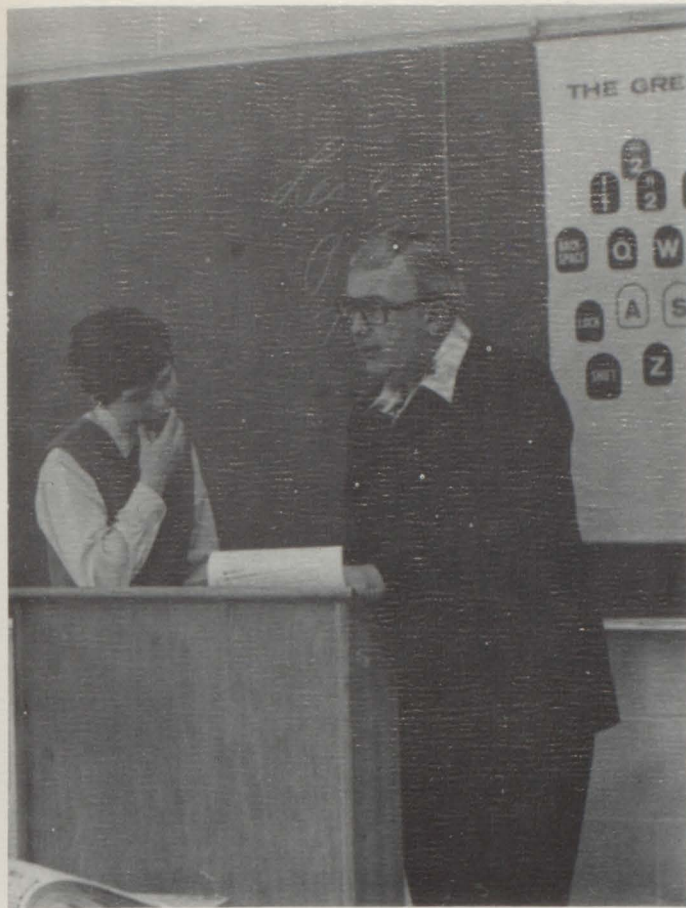

Top Left: German students listen to the tape machine in Herr Norman's class. Top Right: Mr. Ryskewecz poses with his second year French class. Bottom Left: Mrs. McLeod and Mike Shagena look on as Clark Kremer studies his German grammar. Bottom Right: Mr. Ahearn communicates to his students through Spanish.

to success.*

When you first walk into rooms 501, 506, 511 and 512; you can recognize immediately what they are used for. These rooms contain typewriters, calculators, duplicating machines, cash registers, file cabinets, time clocks, stencil machines, IBM transcribers and telephones. Our Business Education classrooms resemble business offices so much that, with very little imagination, you can almost picture yourself going to work, instead of just another class.

Co-op(eration)

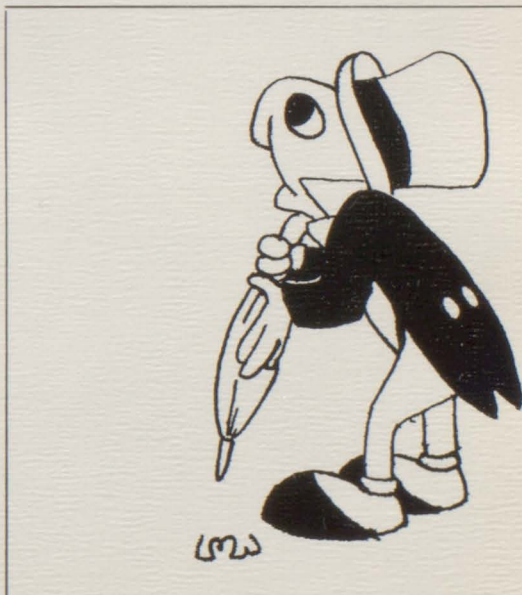

Being in Co-op is like having your cake and eating it too. The students gain in three areas. They are able to get work experience which helps them with future employment. Class credit towards graduation day is given, and the paycheck comes in handy when the student needs some money.

Instructional Media.

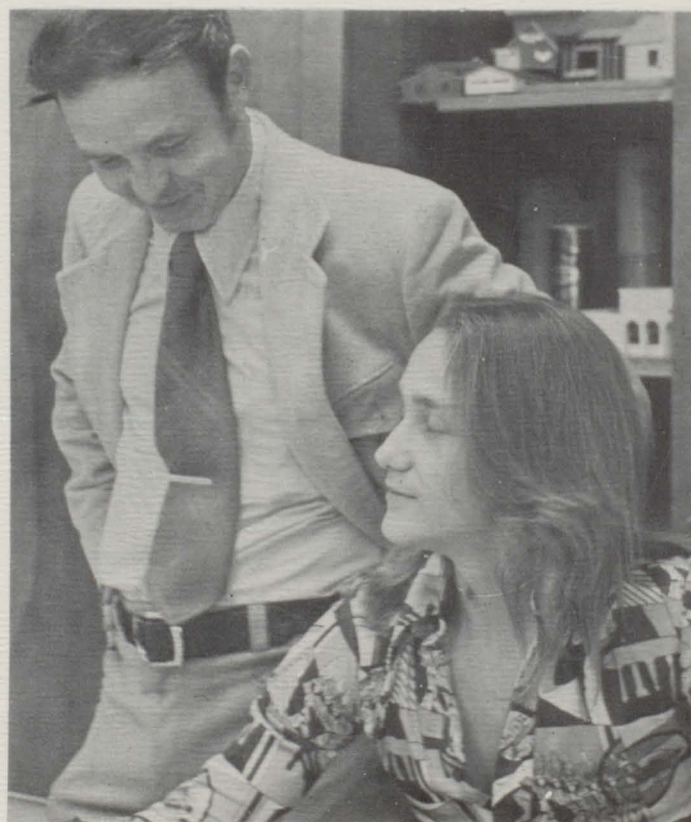

What has three characters, twelve sides, thousands of frames, millions of pages, billions of letters and zero decibels? The Port Huron Northern Media Center is no longer just a library.

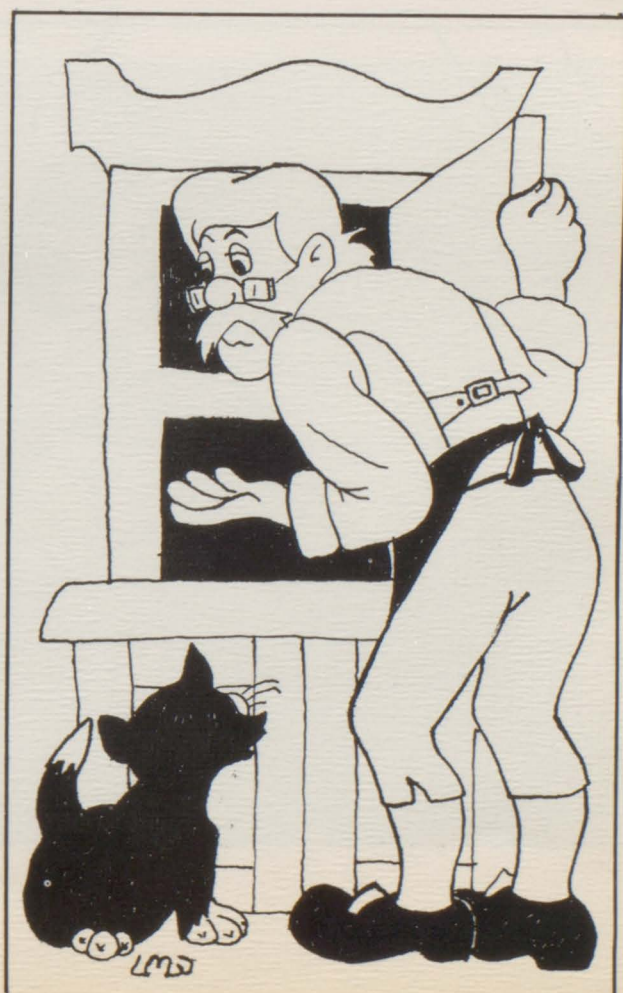

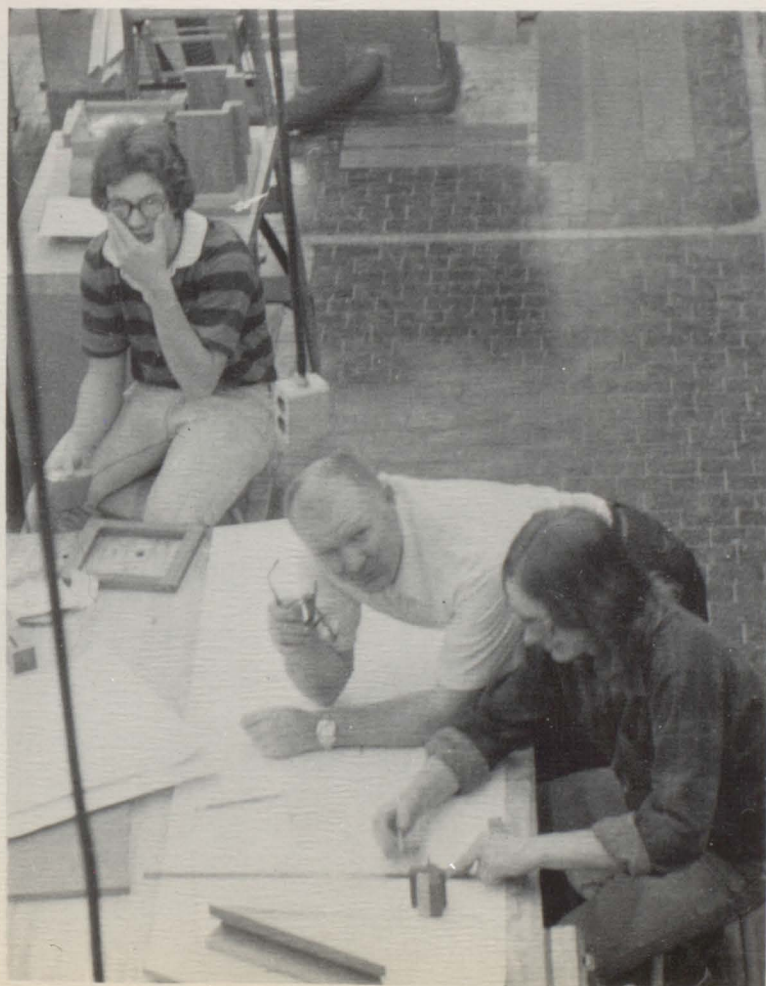

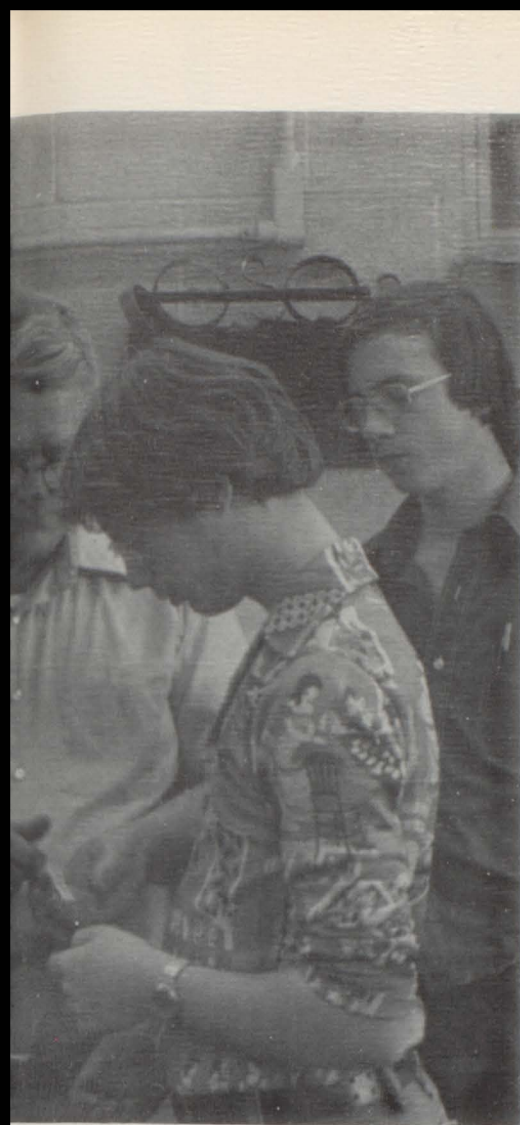

Industrial Arts: practical education

Many opportunities are open to students in the Industrial Arts program. After taking one year of general shop students find they are able to continue advancing with woods or metals. Mechanical drawing goes into drafting. Taking power mechanics or electrical science enables the student to work with heavy machines or delicate transistors. Vocational programs are open to fields including drafting occupations, electronical occupations or auto mechanics.

Express your talents through the Fine Arts.

Fine Arts brings out talent in students. The Fine Arts program at P.H.N. is divided into three categories: Music, Art and Band. Interested students are usually able to find an area in which to excell.

Top Center: Alan Hart assists Mrs. LaBeau.
Top Right: Mr. Taggart: What shall I create next?
Bottom Center: Sing along with Mr. Dietrich.

Meeting individual needs.

Special Education focuses on the individual's learning and any problems that could make learning more difficult. Students are taught individually or in small groups by specially trained personnel. For example, students with hearing disabilities have their assignments explained so they can understand them. Emotional upsets and personal problems are dealt with so the student can adjust to everyday happenings.

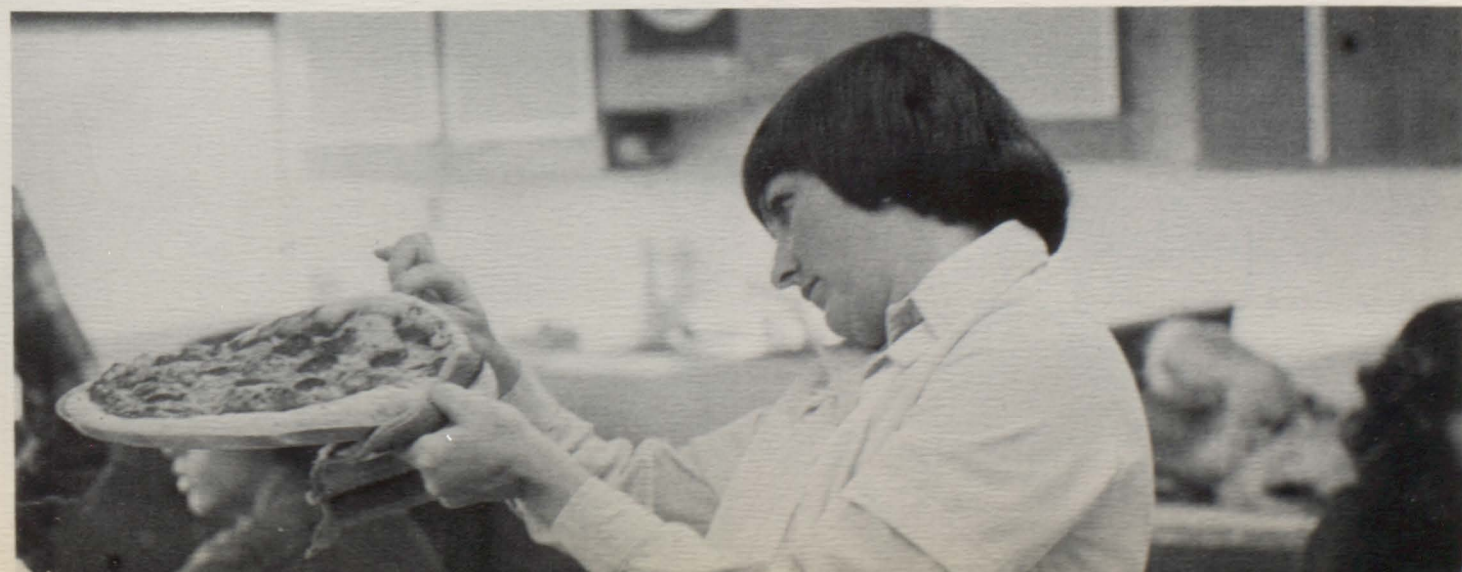

Preparing for future families.

Sewing machines along the walls, life-sized kitchenettes complete with utensils, cupboards filled with idea books, fabric, and food, these are just a few of the ingredients that are mixed together to make the three classrooms for the Home-Ec department.

Top Left — Mrs. Edwards aids students by explaining their assignments. Top Center — Help is always there when Mrs. Carpenter watches. Top Right — Mrs. Bitzinger reads a newspaper article before showing a filmstrip. Center Left — Miss Chess listens to the question being asked. Center Right — Sandra Turney watches Miss Galoit demonstrate quilting. Bottom Left — Student evaluations show Mr. Murray and his students their progress. Bottom Center — Charles Fogarty asks Mrs. Smith's help. Bottom Right — Food is checked carefully before being graded by Mrs. Sevigny.

Mr. Ivan's has moved! Where? Within 22'2" of the Media Center's entrance. It is a little bright green room with wall to wall paperback books. Even though the room is small, its contents can open your mind.

LUDINGTON NEW READING ROOM "MR. IVAN'S"

*I think we

The class of '77 has accomplished many of their goals throughout the four years that they have been at Northern. They were one of the most "influential" 9th grades. In 10th grade they showed their spirit by winning the pep bone many times. The 11th grade was the year that they swept away with the Mardi Gras barrel. It was because of the fabulous wall Jungle Book. As seniors, this year it should be their most important year, a year of learning and of memories.

The junior class through the leadership of the class officers, Kris Berg — President; Lori Shaw — Vice President; Sonya Chafty — Treasury; and Lori Tait — Secretary, put forth an all out effort this year for Mardi Gras.

They used different money raising projects such as hand silk screened T-shirts.

They are planning for a successful Junior prom.

With the help of Mr. Bonacci, Dean, Mrs. Goodrich, Counselor, and Mrs. Turner, Secretary, the Juniors have had a great year.

Freshman leadership.

During their first year of high school, the Freshmen class made impressive plans. The officers and steering committee scheduled a car wash, bake sale and a dance. They also have plans to make T-shirts. These plans represent a lot of hard work.

Top Left: The steering committee of the Freshmen class. Top Center: The Class of 1980 presents its class officers: president, Dave Herber; vice-president, Stuart Weidenbach; secretary, Kelly Moore; Treasurer, Michelle Phillips. Top Right: At the top and always right: Mr. Matson, counselor; Mrs. Vigrass, secretary; Miss Austin, grade dean.

Many long hours and tremendous effort are contributed to the production of a yearbook. Our SPIRIT OF '77 owes many thanks to: Graphic Creators yearbook company, and their president, Mr. Weatherly. Mr. Spraggs gave us his professional photographic assistance. The yearbook staff's effort was led by "Yearbookies," Lucinda Fritch, Steve Lambert, and Bruce Bailey. They certainly made the SPIRIT OF '77 a success. A very special thanks goes to Janet Borst for her participation above and beyond the call of duty. For memories and inspiration we thank the creative world of Walt Disney.
